Index
Volume XI—2004

(Volume XI was published as 2 double issues; Numbers I & II and Numbers III & IV)

Bankes, Paul, Duemer, L.S., Boss, J., Cochran, A., McCrary, J., & Salazar, D.
History of The Catalyst: Administrative Attempts to Suppress an Underground Student Newspaper—Numbers III & IV, Pages 87-99

Black Candidates in Search of Electoral Support: Is Success Dependent on Residential Integration and Social Interaction?
Jas M. Sullivan and Ashraf M. Esmail—Numbers III & IV, Pages 101-121

Book Review—Pickett's Charge-The Last Attack at Gettysburg
Robert A. Taylor—Numbers I & II, Pages 73-75

Book Review—The Planter's Prospect: Privilege & Slavery in Plantation Paintings
Elizabeth Kuebler-Wolf—Numbers I & II, Pages 69-72

Book Review—Southern Local Color: Stories of Region, Race, and Gender
Laurie M. Carroll—Numbers III & IV, Pages 137-139

Boss, Jeffrey, Duemer, L.S., Bankes, P., Cochran, A., McCrary, J., & Salazar, D.
History of The Catalyst: Administrative Attempts to Suppress an Underground Student Newspaper—Numbers III & IV, Pages 87-99

Carroll, Laurie M.
Book Review—Southern Local Color: Stories of Region, Race, and Gender—Numbers III & IV, Pages 137-139

Cochran, Amanda, Duemer, L.S., Bankes, P., Boss, J., McCrary, J., & Salazar, D.
History of The Catalyst: Administrative Attempts to Suppress an Underground Student Newspaper—Numbers III & IV, Pages 87-99

"Desponding Hearts Will Be Made to Rejoice": Irish and Scottish Famine Relief from Virginia in 1847
Harvey Strum—Numbers I & II, Pages 17-38

Dr. Blair Does "The Bear," or How Hugh Blair Might Have Survived an Encounter with "The Bear" in Faulkner's Wilderness
John G. Peters—Numbers I & II, Pages 11-15

Duemer,Lee S., Bankes, P., Boss, J., Cochran, A., McCrary, J., & Salazar, D.
History of The Catalyst: Administrative Attempts to Suppress an Underground Student Newspaper—Numbers III & IV, Pages 87-99

The Economic and Social Effects of the American Revolution on the Reverend William Vere of Virginia's Eastern Shore
Otto Lohrenz—Numbers III & IV, Pages 123-136

Esmail, Ashraf M. & Sullivan, J.M.
Black Candidates in Search of Electoral Support: Is Success Dependent on Residential Integration and Social Interaction?—Numbers III & IV, Pages 101-121

Fulton, Lorie Watkins
William Faulkner's Wistaria: The Tragic Scent of the South—Numbers I & II, Pages 1-9

Germans in Dixie: The German Element in Antebellum Southern Cities
Harold W. Hurst and Dean Sinclair—Numbers I & II, Pages 47-67

History of The Catalyst: Administrative Attempts to Suppress an Underground Student Newspaper
Lee S. Duemer, Paul Bankes, Jeffrey Boss, Amanda Cochran, Jaci McCrary, and Dora Salazar—Numbers III & IV, Pages 87-99

Hurst, Harold W. & Sinclair, D.
Germans in Dixie: The German Element in Antebellum Southern Cities—Numbers I & II, Pages 47-67

James L. McCorkle, Jr.: An Appreciation
Marietta LeBreton—Numbers III & IV, Pages 1-4

Kuebler-Wolf, Elizabeth
Book Review—The Planter's Prospect: Privilege & Slavery in Plantation Paintings—Numbers I & II, Pages 69-72

LeBreton, Marietta.
James L. McCorkle, Jr.: An Appreciation—Numbers III & IV, Pages 1-4

Lohrenz, Otto
The Economic and Social Effects of the American Revolution on the Reverend William Vere of Virginia's Eastern Shore—Numbers III & IV, Pages 123-136

MacInery, Dorothy McLeod, Ward, R.D. & Rogers, W.W.
Oscar Wilde Lectures in New Orleans and Across the South in 1882—Numbers III & IV, Pages 31-65

Magome, Kiyoko
Two Years of Counterpoint: Carson McCullers's Musico-Literary, Socio-Aesthetic Discourse—Numbers III & IV, Pages 67-86

McCorkle, James L., Jr.,
Moving Perishables to Market: Southern Railroads and the Nineteenth-Century Origins of Southern Truck Farming—Numbers III & IV, Pages 5-30

McCrary, Jaci, Duemer, L.S., Bankes, P., Boss, J., Cochran, A., & Salazar, D.
History of The Catalyst: Administrative Attempts to Suppress an Underground Student Newspaper—Numbers III & IV, Pages 87-99

Moving Perishables to Market: Southern Railroads and the Nineteenth-Century Origins of Southern Truck Farming
James L. McCorkle, Jr.—Numbers III & IV, Pages 5-30

Oscar Wilde Lectures in New Orleans and Across the South in 1882
William W. Rogers, Robert David Ward, and Dorothy McLeod MacInery—Numbers III & IV, Pages 31-65

Peters, John G.
Dr. Blair Does "The Bear," or How Hugh Blair Might Have Survived an Encounter with "The Bear" in Faulkner's Wilderness—Numbers I & II, Pages 11-15

Richard Wright's Black Boy and "The Ethics of Living Jim Crow": A Sidelight on Motives
Athur Scherr—Numbers I & II, Pages 39-46

Rogers, William W., Ward, R.D. & MacInery, D.M.
Oscar Wilde Lectures in New Orleans and Across the South in 1882—Numbers III & IV, Pages 31-65

Salazar, Dora, Duemer, L.S., Bankes, P., Boss, J., Cochran, A., & McCrary, J.
History of The Catalyst: Administrative Attempts to Suppress an Underground Student Newspaper—Numbers III & IV, Pages 87-99

Sherr, Athur
Richard Wright's Black Boy and "The Ethics of Living Jim Crow": A Sidelight on Motives—Numbers I & II, Pages 39-46

Sinclair, Dean & Hurst, H.W.
Germans in Dixie: The German Element in Antebellum Southern Cities—Numbers I & II, Pages 47-67

Strum, Harvey
"Desponding Hearts Will Be Made to Rejoice": Irish and Scottish Famine Relief from Virginia in 1847—Numbers I & II, Pages 17-38

Sullivan, Jas M. and Esmail, A.M.
Black Candidates in Search of Electoral Support: Is Success Dependent on Residential Integration and Social Interaction?—Numbers III & IV, Pages 101-121

Taylor, Robert A.
Book Review—Pickett's Charge-The Last Attack at Gettysburg—Numbers I & II, Pages 73-75

Two Years of Counterpoint: Carson McCullers's Musico-Literary, Socio-Aesthetic Discourse
Kiyoko Magome—Numbers III & IV, Pages 67-86

Ward, Robert David, Rogers, W.W. & MacInery, D.M.
Oscar Wilde Lectures in New Orleans and Across the South in 1882—Numbers III & IV, Pages 31-65

William Faulkner's Wistaria: The Tragic Scent of the South
Lorie Watkins Fulton—Numbers I & II, Pages 1-9